MEXICAN PLOT TO INVAD U. S. SOIL IS AGAIN FOILED

U. S. Troops Ready to Give Raiders Warm Reception; Monterey Invested

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] EL PASO, Texas, August 30.—Another Mexican plot to cross the border and raid contiguous American territory has been foiled, according to despatches received here last night from Douglas, Arizona. General Villa's attack on the Carranza forces at Monterey is expected to begin tomorrow. Villa is known to have gathered a large body of troops in the vicinity of Monterey and to be planning to take the town by storm. The Carranza garrison is reported to be prepared to meet the attack.

Villa's new move is interpreted here as a strong bid for recognition by the Pan-American conference which has been organized to set Mexico's house in order.
